On the Path of Peace

SUA Student Song

The dreams that came before us are engraved in travertine. Let us cherish what is given and embark on this endeavor. Thousand-colored banners wave amid unceasing winds. As champions of one world, we bear this staff together. Love shines within those that seek common ground.

Our footsteps in the present will be paths of peace one day. Meeting the eyes of others, humanity embraced. Our hearts create momentum, our hands provide the way.

Our pen expounds a future, drawing wisdom from within, Forging scholars firm in action, guarding arts of liberty. The lion's noble call summons justice to its feet. The roar of our conviction echoes through eternity. Hope swells within hearts that act despite fear.

Our footsteps in the present will be paths of peace one day. Meeting the eyes of others, humanity embraced. Our hearts create momentum, our hands provide the way.

Our footsteps in the present will be paths of peace one day. Meeting the eyes of others, humanity embraced. Our hearts create momentum, our hands provide the way.

Our footsteps in the present will be paths of peace one day. Meeting the eyes of others, humanity embraced. Our hearts create momentum, our hands provide the way.

Our footsteps in the present will be paths of peace one day. Meeting the eyes of others, humanity embraced. Our hearts create momentum, our hands provide the way.
